Stephen Derges, Children's Festival Chairman, said,

"This new website offers a great facility for local residents and visitors alike to find out what's going in the area and where help and assistance can be found.

We're delighted to be associated with many of the local organisations and businesses in the area which support our event and this website is a great place to promote what we do each year in holding the Festival."

The Best of Bridgnorth website has a dedicated page and links to the Festival website so that all the latest information about what's happening can be accessed.

The Children's Festival will be held at Oldbury Wells School on the August Bank Holiday Sunday & Monday (30th & 31st August). Admission is free and there will be a host of fun, sports, arts and entertainment activities, workshops and demonstrations.
